

Easterseals Youth Transition Services

We provide comprehensive and individually tailored Transition Assessments to assist youth with disabilities and their IEP Teams to identify meaningful goals for their IEP by using a series of assessment tools, observation, and interviews. Every assessment includes recommendations in different transition related areas.

Overall: To identify the student's abilities, interests, strengths, needs, and behaviors within the areas of personal/social, functional/academic, community/independent living, and vocational interests/job readiness.

Self Determination: To assess the students understanding of self-awareness, decision-making skills, disability identity, and self-advocacy skills.

Vocational Interests and Job Readiness: To gain concrete information of a student's vocational interests, understanding of employment, and vocational skills.

Independent Living: To gauge a student's knowledge of independent living tasks, experience with community tasks, and financial management.

Easterseals Transition Services are designed to work with students, families, and schools to develop a useful road map and provide the guidance necessary for a successful journey to adulthood.
